GLOBAL DYNAMIC GROUP TRAVELS TO WESTERN CHINA
AHEAD OF PRESIDENT CLINTON VISIT

Urumqi, China – Global Dynamic Group, LLC (GDG) concluded today a successful trip to Urumqi, Xinjiang Province. GDG was accompanied by a large delegation including representatives from a prestigious Washington D.C. based event planning firm.

During the visit, GDG toured the five star Grand Hualing Hotel and the International Trade and Commerce Plaza, a one million square foot convention area. Both venues are newly constructed, utilizing state of the art technology with local architectural design and flare.

“The Grand Hualing Hotel and International Trade and Commerce Plaza in Urumqi are world class venues and after former President Clinton’s trip, the whole world will know of these impressive venues,” stated Joah Sapphire, President of GDG.

GDG held productive meetings with the Chairman of Xinjiang Hualing Group and his staff. Recognizing that this will be an historic event, both parties agree to organize the Western China International Economic Summit (WCIES) to highlight investment in the region. The WCIES will include a tour of Urumqi, a private reception with former President Clinton, VIP seating for a keynote address by former President Clinton and question and answer period, an economic summit roundtable and banquet dinner for business and government leaders from around the world. Discussion will focus on investment in Western China and the Chinese government’s “Go West” policy.

Xinjiang Uygur Autonomous Region is in Northwest China and is the largest province by geography in China. It occupies one sixth of the land mass of China. Strategically situated on the border of several central Asian countries, Urumqi, the provincial capital of Xinjiang is a major transportation hub for trade throughout central Asia. In addition, Xinjiang is rich in natural resources. Xinjiang possesses 40% of the coal, 30% of the crude oil and 30% of the natural gas resources in China.
